

401(k) Retirement Savings Plan Highlights

Eligibility

401(k) U.S. employees who are at least age 21 are eligible to participate as of their date of hire. Canadian employees that are on a U.S. payroll and rehired employees are also immediately eligible if they are at least age 21. The following employees are not eligible: staff, union, leased, Puerto Rican, non-resident alien, and independent contractors.

Plan Entry Date Eligibility is immediate. Employee contributions will begin as soon as administratively practical following your enrollment.

Your Contributions

Pre-tax You can contribute between 1% and 60% of your eligible compensation into the Plan each year up to the 2009 IRS limit of $16,500.00. You can change your deferral percentage anytime and as often as you like during a plan year. Changes will take effect as soon as administratively practical.

Please note: If you earned more than $105,000 in 2008, you are considered a highly compensated employee and your pre-tax contributions are limited to $3,000 in 2009. If you are highly compensated and participating in the deferred compensation plan, your pre-tax contributions in the 401(k) Plan may be increased after the end of the Plan Year by any "spill over" contributions from the Deferred Compensation Plan after the 401(k) nondiscrimination tests in the Plan have been completed.

Catch-up Contribution If you are age 50 or older or will turn 50 during the calendar year, and contribute up to the maximum deferral limit allowed under the plan, you may be eligible to contribute an additional $5,500 in "catch-up" contributions.

Rollovers You may roll over contributions from a qualified retirement plan, from a previous employer, or from an IRA into the Plan. By consolidating your retirement accounts, you avoid current income taxes and your money continues to accumulate tax-deferred. For more information on rollovers, call the Retirement Plan Hotline at 1-800-724-7526 or visit www.schwabplan.com.

Withdrawals

Your Plan is designed to help you save for retirement. Therefore, the Internal Revenue Service places restrictions on when money may be withdrawn from your account. You may access your retirement savings under the following circumstances:

In-service - You can withdraw all or part of your account balance attributable to your rollover contributions at any time. If you are over age 59½, you can withdraw all or part of your vested account balance while you are still actively employed.

Loans - No new loans are permitted.

Hardship – You may be eligible to withdraw a portion of your account balance if you experience a financial hardship. The federal government has defined hardships:

- To prevent eviction from or foreclosure of your primary residence;
- Repair damage to your primary residence;
- To purchase a primary residence;
- To pay for post-secondary education for you or an immediate family member;
- To pay for uninsured medical expenses; or
- To cover funeral expenses.

Hardships are subject to ordinary income tax and may be subject to a 10% federal tax penalty. Residents of certain states may also be subject to state penalties. Hardship withdrawals are only available for severe financial hardship, and are considered taxable to you for the year in which you receive it. If you receive a hardship distribution from the Plan, you must stop making 401(k) contributions to the Plan for 6 months.

Termination – You may receive all of your vested contributions and earnings upon termination of employment. Please note, if you do not make a distribution election within 90 days following termination of employment, and your vested account balance:

- is $1,000 or less, it will automatically be paid to you upon termination of employment.
- is between $1,000 to $5,000, it will be automatically rolled over to an IRA established at the Charles Schwab Trust Company.

Disability – If you become permanently disabled, you are allowed to withdraw your money.

Death – If you die, your balance will be paid to your beneficiaries. For more information about your withdrawal options, speak to your Human Resources Department or call 1-800-724-7526 to speak with a Schwab Retirement Plan Services Representative.
